BYLINERS

Next Meeting:

Saturday, December 8 at 1:30 PM

Harlingen Public Library

This meeting is our traditional Christmas party event. Eileen is having major construction at her house, so we will meet and party at our usual time at the library. You are invited to bring and share treats and munchies, but not required.

I asked Jeff and Ruth Harris for a post-Nanowrimo commentary for our final meeting of the year, and I'm asking each of you to plan on a few minutes telling us about the writing projects you have for the coming year. You can also tell us about successful projects that you have completed during 2007.

Last Meeting

Our speaker was Elizabeth Martinez, editor of the Business Times of the Valley.

Thanks, Elizabeth!!

Tales told at Midnight ...

2007 was an exciting year for Byliners. Our book arrived early from the publisher, authors signed books at the meeting then began appearing at signings all over the Valley.

In January, we will discuss formats and gauge enthusiasm for another book. Could be more Valley folklore, ghost stories, children, old-timers, activities or any subject area that the group wants to write about.

Start thinking!
