BYLINERS

Next Meeting:

Saturday, June 14 at 1:30 PM

Harlingen Public Library

Our speaker this week will be Sarah Ann Cuadra, owner of The Storybook Garden, a book store for children in Weslaco.

Sarah will tell us about starting and owning a book store and about working with publishers and distributors. She will also offer a perspective and answer questions for aspiring writers of children's stories and books.

This meeting closes out the year. No meeting in July, then we start the new year in August

Looking ahead...

A message from our new Veep, who will be in charge of programs for the coming year:

Please be a speaker-scout for the Byliners all-day workshop next February. If you are going to a writers workshop or other venue this summer where you'll be exposed to interesting presenters, talk to them and collect information that you can pass on to me. Thanks. The next Byliners book

Mona has received several stories for the new book and is working with the writers as they polish those stories for publication. But she is asking for more stories!

Send your stories to Mona at monawriter@aol.com. She's waiting!

While waiting, Mona is working on her new book and doing a lot of historical research
